zvoove Group company Pivoton manages to score top temporary staffing agency Timing

Partnership strengthens zvoove Group in the Dutch market

Lohne/Ede (Netherlands), 22. February 2023 – zvoove Group, the market-leading provider of digitalisation solutions for temporary staffing and cleaning service providers in Europe was able to score one of the top 3 temporary staffing providers in the Netherlands via its subsidiary Pivoton. Timing, a specialist in the deployment of managers, decided in favour of Pivoton's Kentro Office solution. With this, it enables its recruiters to save up to 90 minutes every day. This is time they will now be able to invest in supporting applicants and clients even more intensively. Not only this, the software shortens the time span between placement and payment by about 40 per cent.

Timing has been a specialist for employing managers for over 25 years. Its philosophy is that work is about more than just making money. The Dutch company supports more than 25,000 freelance and employed temporary staff and has more than 900 employees itself. This makes Timing one of the three largest and most successful temporary staffing agencies in the Netherlands.

"I am very pleased about Timing's decision to use Pivoton's SaaS ERP solution", states zvoove Group's CEO Oliver Muhr. "This success further strengthens our position as a global market leader for SaaS software for temporary staffing agencies and we are very happy that thanks to our acquisition of Pivoton and the expansion into the Dutch market that went along with this, we are able to provide added value as well as a competitive advantage for our customers."

Pivoton's comprehensive solution not only significantly reduces the workload of the front-office, but also back-office processes. It achieves results very quickly without time-consuming and costly training, thereby reducing the time it takes staff to familiarise themselves with the software by up to 70 per cent.

"Timing's decision in favour of Pivoton makes me particularly proud as it is great recognition for us", Pivoton's CEO Paul van den Bosch is pleased to say. "With this boost, zvoove's strength and the use of the most modern technologies, the teams of Timing and Pivoton are changing and improving the world of flexible work."

With the decision in favour of Pivoton, Timing now has a strong partner with the best possible service at its side. The temporary staffing agency will benefit from maximum support and reliability way beyond the initial implementation and migration phase. Timing will be able to reap the rewards from Pivoton's continuous development and innovative spirit as part of the zvoove Group and can therefore focus more on its core business and delivering on its promise of "always work".

For Timing's CFO Jurrie Jan Bruins, it was important to find a partner with a clear vision of the temporary staffing market and who is able to proactively translate this vision into their products. "With Pivoton, Timing now has a partner at its side that fulfils the conditions of agility, customer orientation, efficiency, stability and compliance," Bruins is convinced. "This step will allow us to further strengthen and expand our position in the recruitment and payroll market."
